Subject: Pressure Ulcer Prevalence Quarterly Survey is coming soon. Pre-Event Rally of the troops E-mail.
Importance: High

All, thank you for your continued service in protecting the skin of our patients. Our next hospital-wide survey is rapidly approaching, February 27, 2014. Details of pre-AM huddle and forms will be sent all to everyone later next week.

As usual, we have a 'skin care champ members only' event for recipients of this E-mail. This event is to bring us together and rally up support for the above survey. Your involvement in this hospital-wide quality metric is extremely important and all of us on the WOC team are especially thankful to have such a supportive team unit by unit.

Details for the event:

Sponsor of educational event: Convatec, Inc.

Details of learning opportunity: Skin champs will be getting a first look at our new wound care product array supportive information that will be unveiled in soon to be performed in-services house-wide. The wound care team has been working over the past two years to bring a wide variety of advanced wound care products designed to help your patients in the most cost-effective manner. A thoughtful and pictorial review will be conducted of dressings you can use every day to help your patients. In other words, do you want to know why you or (we) use a dressing for this or that wound? Come and hear it here as this meeting will go over much of the products you have heard of or want to hear of.

When: February 20, 2014 doors open at 1930. Program begins at 2000 and will last approximately 1.5 hours.

Where: The Shebeen • 247 Ridge-McIntire Rd Charlottesville, VA 22903 • 434-296-3185

Due to popularity of these events, I will have to limit attendance to this event to 30 people and no more. Walk-ins or just bringing someone not involved with our internal PUP program will not be permitted. Please respond to me directly if you can attend now. I will have a roster and check your name to it.

Thank you and as stated, we will be sending more information about PUP day later this week!
